Don't be alarmed! It is giving EVERYONE this popup because right now registration is “closed” and we are forcing all registrations flow straight to the waiting list. On Saturday 8/3, we will be randomly selecting consignors from the waiting list based on the number of spaces we have available. Keep an eye on your emails on Saturday—you should hear from us either way (whether you have a spot or will stay on the waiting list until one becomes available.) If you have any questions about registration, please email us at info@covenantconsign.com and we are happy to help!
